HOW THE BODY WAS FOUND

Additional Witnesses Called by the State to Substantiate Testimony Already Given—John Kountz, the Saloonkeeper, Had a Talk With McGreggor About a Letter From Alma Walters—Doctors Tell of How They Viewed the Body—The Head Was Cut Off and the Scalp Removed—A Long Talk on Decomposition. That Hole in the Throat of the Dead Woman is Described.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

NEW LISBON, Nov. 22.—Slowly, but with a certainty which will require a mighty effort to break, the bonds are winding about the form of Jesse McGreggor, and if his council can not produce evidence of startling clearness there will be little surprise if the jury finds a verdict to meet the charge of the grand jury. The testimony of yesterday opened the eyes of those who have declared that Alma Walters would never go on the stand against McGreggor, and that her testimony, even though it be given, would not be of a convincing character. Some startling developments are expected when the defense is well started, but there is no hint as to what will come.

When the NEWS REVIEW went to press yesterday afternoon Mamie Tattson was on the stand. She claimed Allegheny as her home, but she resided in Wellsville from November 1892 to May 1893, during which time she lived at the McGreggor house. So far as she could remember she had never witnessed a quarrel between McGreggor and Lizzie, although she knew the man and had known Mrs. Ewing. Not being there the night Nier called she could say nothing about the occasion, but she was at Morrison's on the evening of June 21 and saw Jess the next morning. He told her he wanted her to go to Liverpool and look for Lizzie, that she had gotten up in the night and gone away, and he wanted to find her before she got any further. She went to Liverpool, and remained until noon but saw nothing of the missing woman. McGreggor gave her $5 for the trip. She had heard him say two weeks before this time that if he ever laid hands on her he would kill her. He often spoke of Lizzie to witness after that trip to Liverpool. Attorney Smith cross examined, and the testimony was brought out that Mamie had seen both within two weeks of that time, and they were drinking hard, but not drunk.

Jacob Heinz, a Wellsville saloon keeper, testified that he knew McGreggor and Lizzie, and talked with the man about the matter in his saloon eight days before the occurrence. McGreggor said that he heard Lizzie was going to quit him, and Heinz told him to have no more to do with her, that she was low. McGreggor said if she ever came back he would fix her.

Taylor—Were you sober that day?

Heinz—I am always sober. Jess was sober, but sick that day.

Taylor—Then a sick man can not drink your whiskey?

Heinz—Now don't you get smart. If you are the congressman-elect.

At this there was a general laugh. Mr. Taylor himself permitting a smile while the judge was compelled to demand order. It was the first laugh of the trial. The witness did not know how much whiskey he sold McGreggor as the latter always took it in small drinks.

Mrs. William Herst said she knew McGreggor, and talked with him of Lizzie after she had disappeared. The conversation took place at McGreggor's back gate, and he asked if witness had heard any unusual noise. She had heard none; he said he thought she would hear it. She saw them preparing for a washing on McGreggor's porch that day. He asked about a dress pattern that was at the house or witness, and said he would give it to me and make it all right with Lizzie.

Mrs. Ed Dennis lives about 150 feet from the McGreggor residence, and about 12 feet higher. She and a sister, now dead, were at home on June 22, and noticed something at McGreggor's. They were in the back yard, and seeing someone move on the porch they sat on the fence for a better view. They observed McGreggor and Morrison carry a heavy burden, wrapped in a sheet, on the porch. That was all they saw that day. Upon cross examination by Mr. Anderson she said it was at 2 o'clock in the afternoon they saw this, and knew they came from the bed room door. She was very positive of the truth of her statement.

Mrs. Hettie Guise helped with the washing at McGreggor's on June 23. She knew the man and woman, and on that day washed 100 or more small towels, Alma Walters having engaged her and McGreggor paid her for the work. Nothing on any clothes except three towels which were covered with blood. The others had been soaked before she arrived. Attorney Smith cross examined and found the towels were not hidden; no one gave them to her, they were just there. She could not tell Prosecutor Speaker what day it was, but placed it at the last of the week. When the washing was done she put the towels in the bed room as McGreggor directed.

W. L. Clark, of Wellsville, had known the accused nine years, and talked with him after Lizzie had disappeared. Nothing said of her at first. Then he took witness through the house and showed him some things before he mentioned her. He also took him to the little bed room, and showing him other things said "What would you do with a woman like that?" The disgusting nature of what Clark saw prevents publication in the NEWS REVIEW. Clark also talked with McGreggor at the coop in July, and was asked if he noticed anything peculiar in the smell. As Clark did not, nothing more was said, although he frequently dropped in there on his way home from work.

Kitty Cuthbert, of Allegheny, lived in the McGreggor property from the first of last March to some time last summer. McGreggor came there with a bull dog, and kept it in the back yard. He insisted on having the gates locked, and at times kept the dog loose, but it was usually chained. On cross examination of Mr. Taylor she said McGreggor claimed the dog as his, but he could not remember that he said it was always kept there.

Chief Warren testified that William Mehan was chief of police in June of 1893, and that he knew McGreggor, with whom he conversed after Lizzie disappeared. The man met him on the street and asked the officer to go to his house. When they got there McGreggor went to the place where the body was afterward found and burst into tears. He asked Warren what rumors he had heard about Lizzie being buried there, and said he had taken Warren there to show him that she was not. He wanted to know if he had heard that he (McGreggor) had killed Lizzie, and then showed him all through the coop. Again he stood on the grave and cried. Witness testified that he was present when the body was unearthed. John Duncan and himself found the body on the night of May 30, after they had gone there for that purpose. They probed the ground with a piece of pipe, each taking turns at the work, and after some time touched the trunk of the body. Then Warren went for the mayor who sent his son to help in the work, and a short time afterward the body was exposed. The woman was lying on her stomach, the feet doubled back from the knees, the head inclined to one side and resting on her arm and near a sewer pipe. The grave was not more than four feet long. Witness knew that the body was taken from the coop to Haugh's undertaking office, and said previously that the grave was not more than three and one-half feet deep. The remains found under the coop was the same as were turned over to the coroner. Warren remembered the watch and chain worn by McGreggor, and identified the various articles found upon the body. When the clothes were brought in Attorney Taylor objected but the court did not interrupt, and Warren identified them as having been on the body found on McGreggor's lot in Wellsville. Attorney Smith cross examined and brought forth the opinion from the witness that the watch was in Lizzie's corset, but he was not sure. The instrument used in probing was a piece of gas pipe, flattened out, and both the officers used it in searching. They used a dark lantern and entered the yard from the back gate. It was not locked, and when they began the work Duncan did the probing. Several examinations were made in different parts of the yard, and when the body was found Warren got a shovel to remove the dirt, the trunk being first exposed.

John Duncan, a policeman, said he had known McGreggor for 20 years, and was called into his house one day by the accused. He wanted him to look over the premises and see if there were any graves in the yard, and when Duncan said he could see none, McGreggor remarked that the people said Lizzie was buried there. He wanted Duncan to go to the cellar, but he declined, with the remark that he would look there again. He helped to uncover the body, and testified to its position, as Chief Warren had done, adding that Infirmary Director Frazier lifted the head.

I. G. Keeling was engaged to do some papering for Lizzie, but was told to come again when he went to the house June 22, Jesse telling him that Lizzie had been called to Pittsburgh the night before by a message. He went again the next day, and did the work. After it was done McGreggor told him that he had heard his father had heard screams at the house, and hoped his mother would know nothing about it, as it would break her heart. He was taken through the coop by witness, and he noticed that it had been whitewashed. McGreggor talked about Lizzie and said she had made him mad and then gone away; that he felt he could almost kill her at times. After the disappearance Jess told him that she had gone in the night. Cross examination by Attorney Anderson showed that witness did not remember the date, as he kept no time, but he knew it was the 22d when he went to get the job, and two weeks later the paper was sent from Kelley's store, and Kelley's books will show it.

Justice Riley acknowledged that he acted as coroner, and examined the remains found in McGreggor's yard. He examined the clothing sent to Judge Young and identified them when they were brought in. He said in response to the question from Speaker that after the inquest he put them in a box and sent them by the hackman to Judge Young.

Judge Young said he had seen the box which was sent to him three or four months ago. Driver Watson had delivered them to him, and he turned them over to the janitor at the court house. The box was produced, and the judge believed it was the same in which the goods came.

Undertaker Haugh, Wellsville, said he met McGreggor on Main street in May of this year, and asked him if he knew where Lizzie was, as she owed him $23. McGreggor said he did not, that she had gone away with his watch and $300, and he didn't care anything about it only he wanted his bunch of shingles. Haugh said he took charge of the body.

William Cheattle was recalled, and said he had heard McGreggor talk of Lizzie since she disappeared and wondered what had become of her. He said he had heard she was in Pittsburgh, Chicago or East Liverpool. One day McGreggor showed him a picture in the Police Gazette in which a woman was shown scalping an Indian, and expressed the belief that Lizzie had gone west and that was her picture. Attorney Anderson joked with the witness about the picture, and the weary reporters and lawyers had an opportunity to smile after their hard work.

Judge Young, upon being recalled, testified that the box containing the clothing was opened in his presence.

Court was called promptly this morning, and there was no delay in getting down to work. The trial had advanced so far that all who have heard the testimony are deeply interested in what is about to happen next. The sad appearance of Alma Walters made an impression, and the testimony given by Officers Warren and Duncan was freely discussed in this place last night. Many opinions as to the outcome of the trial are heard, but it would be a difficult matter to find just what the interested parties expect when the jury comes in.

The first witness called was Alfred Brown, of Salem. He did not know McGreggor, but knew Lizzie when he lived in Wellsville. Never saw any difficulty between them because he never looked for any.

Oliver Kinsley said he knew McGreggor and Lizzie, and had talked with the man regarding the disappearance of the woman at Fitzpatrick's saloon. He said then that she was in Chicago, and asked witness to go with him to the house. He went, and Jess showed him all through it, and asked if he believed Lizzie was buried there. Then they went to the coop, and McGreggor asked if witness believed she was there. He said that he could not tell, but he noticed that there was lime on the ground floor of the coop. They spent a half hour in the house together, and Jess continued to talk, saying that Lizzie had gone away with his watch and money, but did not say what amount. He had heard McGreggor make threats but never heard one against Lizzie. Cross examination by Smith showed that this talk was two months after Lizzie disappeared. His family did not talk much about the matter, although he was a son of Mrs. Keeling.

John Nicholson talked with McGreggor about Lizzie. In the spring he asked witness if he ever saw her, as she had left him, and he would like to know something of her. Nicholson could not remember any further conversation. Attorney Smith cross examined, and found that the talk took place eight or nine months after the disappearance, and at that time there was little talk about it in Wellsville.

John Kountz said he was a Wellsville saloonkeeper, and that McGreggor brought up the subject of Lizzie's absence in a corner of his saloon, where he said he wanted to tell Kountz a secret. Witness said he had better keep it to himself, and the other said it did not amount to much. He had a letter from Alma Walters, he said, and she wanted money and he had none. Then the witness gave the letter as he could remember it: "You have ignored my letter. You say you have no money when I know you have lots of it. I hate you." At this point witness was stopped by Speaker. Taylor objected, but the court overruled the objection, and the witness said nothing more about the letter. He said that they talked on the same day about Morrison, McGreggor saying that he had a secret and wanted to tell it, and McGreggor asked if he ever talked to Harvey, as the letter accused him of having Kountz kill Morrison, on the pretense of the accidental discharge of a gun. "Yes, the letter wanted money." Here Attorney Anderson objected to the State cross-examining its own witnesses, and the court sustained him.

Sheriff Lodge said that prior to the inquest he had sent a written notice to P. M. Smith.

Doctor Park testified that he has been practicing in Wellsville for 24 years, and was present at the inquest. He did not know whose body it was, nor did he testify before the coroner. Another inquest was held in June, and the body was that of a woman, but did not know if it was a different body. Mr. Taylor objected to this sort of examination, and witness said that Sheriff Lodge and Officer Warren were present at the first examination. The last was held on June 6, and they were about 10 days apart.

Undertaker Haugh was recalled by the state, and said that he was asked to remove the remains from the McGreggor lot, and the body was in his keeping about six days. In that time two examinations took place, Doctors Tarr and Holland being employed, and Park and McKenzie were there. Another examination was attended by Doctors Park, Tarr, Rex, McFarland, Holland and Marquis. On cross examination by Taylor he said that after the examination two doctors were called by the coroner, and the head of the body was cut off. Doctor Tarr took the scalp off, and left it there, and it was never taken away. Doctors Tarr, McFarland and Densmore were there. To Mr. Speaker he said the inquest took place in June and there was no other inquest that month.

Joseph Warren was recalled, and said he was at the first examination. Doctors Tarr, McFarland, McKenzie, and Park were there, the latter not all of the time.

Doctor Park, recalled, testified that the examination was in June, of this year, at Haugh's office. The body was partly dressed, and he did not get there until after the start. His attention was attracted by Doctor Rex to a ragged hole in the throat just above the breast bone. The face was swollen, and the tongue protruded an inch. The features were in bad condition, and there were blood spots above the larynx. The ragged hole was an inch and a half or two inches in length. There were black spots on the face and throat, that on the left side being two inches long and on the right one inch. To the question what it indicated Mr. Taylor objected, but court overruled.

"To me it indicated pressure on the tissues, and all indications showed strangulation." Witness noticed that at second inquest the body was more decomposed, and this time he saw the marks on the skull which he had not seen before. On the left forehead there were two marks, each two inches long and on the same line on the back of the head there were two smaller marks. It might be that concussion would result from a blow sufficient to make those marks. Strangulation causes violent death. When Mr. Taylor cross-examined, the doctor said he went to the first inquest through curiosity, and saw the doctors standing around and looking at the body. He was not there when the head was cut off. He was then invited to the second inquest ordered to attend by Officer Warren. He was to meet Marquis and Park there, and presumed the order came from the court. He was paid $50 for the examination, the physicians making their own price. The witness had never before examined a body that had been interred for a year, but had seen them. When he first saw the body it was in good condition, but decomposition is rapid when it sets in, softening of the tissues being the result. The head did not decompose first, because the ground was damp. The lungs, heart, liver and hand decompose rapidly, but it depends on conditions whether the heart or lungs decomposes first. The opening in the throat was near the larynx. He knew the name of a medical work which Mr. Taylor mentioned, and from which he read an extract relating to decomposition. As this did not agree with what the physician said, the attorney asked how he reconciled this with the larynx part of his testimony. The witness had no disposition to dispute the word of the medical authority, but the rapidity of decomposition depended wholly on surrounding circumstances. Mortification affected a body after death without regard to the form of death, and would come in one as soon as in another. A large amount of blood and certain diseases cause decomposition sooner than other circumstances. In case a person died a violent death without loss of blood the body would not decompose more rapidly than from natural disease. It depends on what conditions; when and how the body was buried. Of course a full bloated body would decompose more rapidly than others. Witness saw the place where the body was buried, but made no particular examination. He regards it as low and damp, but did not see in the hole although he knows it is a clay soil. To the question, "what is mortification," he said it was decomposition by a certain process, and decomposition was a change in itself supposed to be caused by some destructive agency. The bacterial and chemical changes begin at once, and he believed the bacterial changes were first because they were going on all the time. He did not examine the scalp, but looked closely at the skull because he believed he would be called upon to testify at the trial. Saw the marks, but it was impossible to know why they were there, although he knew they did not belong there. He made no medical examination, but was sure that the marks would not be on the skull without first being on the scalp, and, of course, he did not know how they got there. Something had produced them, and it looked as though they might have been produced when the body was being taken out of the grave. That was one probability which occurred to his mind. He did not use a microscope, but saw that the mark on the right side was three-fourths of an inch long and one-twelfth wide. The edges were ragged, and he knew the marks were not caused by disease. He said this because of the appearance of the marks. He had no trouble in finding them, as they were plain. The internal organs were removed, and as far as he knew all were returned. The head was in Wellsville, but he knew that it was in New Lisbon at present, because he had seen it there this morning. It was in much the same condition as when he had seen it in Wellsville. He saw no internal effect of blows, and did not believe that an examination of internal parts would show the cause of the marks. "Would a blow leave a mark on the brain?" was asked, to which reply was made that it would indicate whether force had been used, but as he had made no examination of the brain in this case he could not tell what was there. The doctor stated positively that Sheriff Lodge now had the skull in his possession. This ended the morning session, and court adjourned.

AN EXPERT.

Doctor Park is Still on the Witness Stand.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

NEW LISBON, Nov. 22.—The expert medical testimony of the state continues, and will likely occupy all of the afternoon. The defense will not take the case until tomorrow afternoon.

Doctor Park is still on the stand, and the tedious cross examination by Mr. Taylor goes on without interruption. The doctor said that he found a hole in the breast caused by putrefaction, and that the spots on neck were almost black. These ap-

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, NOV. 22.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY, OF OHIO.

Read the News Review in order to get the news.

The financial policy of our dear Democratic administration is almost as useful as a paper bag for carrying water.

Every man, woman and child in East Liverpool sincerely hopes that the improvement in trade will continue and the pottery whistles will blow.

SOME Republicans in Cincinnati are attempting to force the factional fights of that partisan town into the state organization. It would be advisable for the unscrupulous ones to think twice.

THERE is a disposition on the part of some members of congress to bring forward the foolish pop gun tariff bills some time next month. Poor fellows; will they never know that the rubber of their dangerous toy has snapped in twain.

THERE is little doubt that Ohio Republicans want Governor McKinley to succeed Grover Cleveland as president. This sentiment does not come from any class or clique, but appears as the sentiment of the people who want a good man for that responsible position.

AN interesting statement comes from the insurance department showing that the companies doing business in Ohio took out of the state last year $15,500,000 as premiums on existing policies. This went to companies in eastern cities where the great benefit is derived.

THE mere fact that Alma Walters appeared in court yesterday but adds another gem to the dazzling crown of truth. The News Review knew what it was talking about when it asserted on more than one occasion that the woman would be produced when her testimony was needed by the prosecution.

AN INNOVATION.

Our Democratic congressman has been talking. For some unaccountable reason he has opened the inmost recesses of his soul, and poured forth his political feeling without regard to the long, painful silence of the past. To the Washington Post he said:

"The result of the election means that there must be a western man as the Democratic candidate for the presidency, and he must be friendly to silver. Tariff is practically dead as an issue, and the financial question will now come to the front. The Democratic party must redeem its pledges and restore silver to its rightful place as a money of final redemption. I see a good deal of talk about Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, as a Republican candidate, who has been and will be friendly to silver. I do not want to see the Republicans step in and cut our ground from under us."

Thus it can be seen that the doctor, like all other Democrats whipped out of their boots on the principle of protection, is weary of the tariff issue, and will grab at any straw in a poor attempt at vindication. The doctor should not forget that when he talks of his party redeeming pledges he is treading on ground which may open and swallow the lot from Grover Cleveland to Thaddeus McGavern.

SPRINGFIELD, O.

A SWINDLING GANG.

Lumbermen Said to Have Suffered From a Pittsburg Firm.

MONEY ATTACHED IN TOLEDO

By a Michigan Man Who Claims to Have Been Buncoed—A Woman Says Members of the Gang Poisoned Her For Talking Too Much.

TOLEDO, Nov. 22.—Samuel G. M. Gates of Bay City, Mich., one of numerous Michigan lumbermen, who are alleged to have been swindled through the operations of individuals styling themselves the Pennsylvania Land and Lumber company, with headquarters at Pittsburg, has attached the sum of $12,270, which has been in the keeping of the Home Savings bank of this city since Nov. 6. William E. Delaney, Mrs. John Harris, Jennie Emerson, Margaret Christy and Matilda Gerst are named as defendants in the attachment proceedings, and it is alleged that the money was deposited here by Mrs. Harris, the $12,270 representing, it is claimed, the ill-gotten gains of an organized band of swindlers, traveling and operating under the guise of upright business men and women. The agents of the company bought lumber in Michigan by the wholesale, without giving any returns, shipped the lumber out of the Saginaw valley, sold it at ruinous prices for cash and decamped.

Gates, the plaintiff in the present case, is one of those who suffered at the hands of the gang. It is part of their scheme to place the proceeds of their operations in deposit vaults in various cities. The most sensational feature of the whole case is the claim of Mrs. Harris, who has been for some time past dangerously ill in Pittsburg, that she was poisoned by one of her co-swindlers for revealing as much of the whole plot as was necessary to put the detectives on the right track. At the time she was taken ill, she says, she was preparing to come to Toledo and turn over the money to the company's creditors, and now claims that she was poisoned in order to prevent her coming.

MISS WILLARD'S TIP.

Intimates That Baltimore Gets the Next W. C. T. U. Convention.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—It is very likely that the next W. C. T. U. convention will be held in Baltimore. Miss Willard, when asked, said it had not been settled, but said she to the reporter: "Between you and I, I think it will be Baltimore."

Among the resolutions adopted by the convention before it adjourned were one deploring the Armenian fiasco and advocating international protection; one denouncing the increase of military education in public schools, colleges and universities, and one which raised much controversy thanking the Populists for the suffrage plank in the platform in Kansas; thanking the Republicans for the same thing in Colorado, and thanking the Democrats of the south for bringing a large area under local option laws. The resolutions were adopted after much discussion. Several constitutional amendments were adopted and several failed to carry. Mrs. Snell of Massachusetts introduced two amendments conferring more power on department superintendents, which were lost. An amendment that was adopted provided that bi-annual sessions could be held when it was deemed advisable.

The temple report adopted first referred to the financial stringency of the past year, which had hurt the temple. In spite of this, however, the interest on the temple trust bonds were paid. The

Officers Positive He Has Been Taken In Texas.

FOUR OF HIS PALS ALSO BAGGED.

Two U. S. Deputy Marshals Leave Fort Smith to Identify Them—The Desperadoes Caught by Texas Rangers—Detectives Were Hot on Their Trail.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 22.—At the United States marshal's office it is regarded as positive that Bill Cook is under arrest in Texas. He is thought to be one of the five men captured by the Texas rangers at Mitchell Falls. The description of the man Farries, one of the five, exactly corresponds with that of Cook. This is strengthened by the fact that the man who answers the name of Skeeter is an exact counterpart of Baldwin, alias Skeeter of the Cook gang.

Ever since the Corrota holdup six local detectives have been on the trail of the bandits and have been well posted as to their movements. A week ago they learned that Cook and a part of his band had gone toward Texas. They used the wires to forward their work, and when they heard of the arrest of the five bandits placed great confidence in the belief that the much-wanted outlaws had at last been rounded up. Two of the deputies have gone to Texas to identify the men and bring them in.

Pray For Safety From Earthquakes.

ROME, Nov. 22.—Relief funds for the earthquake sufferers have been opened throughout Italy and the military commanders in the afflicted districts have been ordered to give every assistance to the sufferers by providing them with tents and bread, etc. The earthquake shock yesterday was felt in Calabria, Campania and the island of Lipari, in addition to being felt at Messina, Sicily. At the latter place a religious procession marched through the streets headed by Cardinal Giuseppe Guarino, Archbishop of Messina, offering up prayers for the safety of the inhabitants. The cathedral was closed in order to avoid a disaster in the event of renewed earthquake shocks.

Probable Eruption of Mt. Tacoma.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Great excitement has been caused throughout Puget Sound country by what is looked upon by many as an eruption of Mount Tacoma, or Rainier, 14,444 feet high, and one of the loftiest peaks in the Pacific. The mountain has lately been strangely transformed. The crest of the great monarch of the Cascades has changed, the cone having fallen in and steam can be seen rising from the crater. The changed appearance of the mountain is evident from the streets of Seattle, 90 miles distant, and thousands of people have been watching it.

Lawyers and Barkeepers Barred.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22.—The general assembly, Knights of Labor, has disposed of the vexatious questions of admitting lawyers and wage-earning barkeepers by barring them out of the order. The question had been favorably reported by the committee, but was voted down. The vote was reconsidered and finally disposed of, only to come up in a division with a number of amendments attached. The question about the barkeepers met with the same fate.

Hard to Refo in China's Army.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Shanghai to The Times says that the reform of the Chinese army proceeds with difficulty. A few European officers are engaged in the preliminaries of the reorganization. There is no central authority. Prince Kung, uncle of the emperor and head of the Tsung-Li-Yamen, the admiralty, etc., is reserved in the exercises of his power, finding it hard to contend against Chinese obstruction. Viceroy Li Hung Chang shows no signs of leaving Tien Tsin.

New Gold Bill to Be Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—It is expected that very soon after the meeting of congress a bill will be introduced to provide that a certain percentage of the revenues of the government (the exact rate not yet determined) shall be paid in gold. It is doubtful whether during the short session this measure can be got through congress, but every determined effort it is asserted will be made in that direction.

Reed to Be There.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Hon. Thomas B. Reed has accepted the invitation of the Home Market club to attend its eighth annual reception and dinner, which will be given in Mechanics building this evening. Other distinguished guests who are expected are Governor Greenhalgh and Senator Hoar, Hon. Stephen B. Elkins, Mr. W. S. Parkinson of New Orleans and Hon. Roswell G. Horr of New York.

Cummings Gets a New Job.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Mayor Gilroy has appointed Congressman Amos J. Cummings subway commissioner, to succeed Theodore Moss, whose term has expired. Jacob Hess, subway commissioner, to succeed himself, and Henry S. Kearney, to succeed Walter Storm, term expired. The term of the commissioners is three years, salary $5,000 a year.

Japs Near Port Arthur.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A dispatch from Shanghai reports that the Japanese are within two miles of Port Arthur. It is added that the American cruiser Baltimore has gone to Kung Chow, fearing that an attack may be made upon the American mission there.

Mrs. Davis and Daughter to Receive.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 22.—The Daughters of the Confederacy will give a grand ball at Exchange hall this evening for the benefit of the Higginsville Confederate home. Mrs. Jefferson and Miss Winnie Davis are expected and will receive the guests.

COLONEL COIT'S DEFENSE.

He Was Justified In Ordering Soldiers to Fire—Not Drunk.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22.—The court of inquiry in the Coit case heard evidence to this effect from Colonel Coit. He was not at the door where the firing occurred when it occurred. Later he received telephone messages to get his men out, as the house was to be blown up with dynamite. Colonel Coit laid stress on the fact that the orders to fire in case the doors were broken, or a stone was thrown or a shot fired at the men, were given by himself. His reasons for keeping the men in the house after the negro had been taken there was to avoid the possibility of stones being thrown at the men, thus necessitating firing by them and perhaps the killing of innocent persons. He also believed the withdrawal of the troops to the house would result in less excitement outside.

In an answer to a question relative to the statements that he was intoxicated, Colonel Coit testified that he did not enter a saloon during the day, but on account of being cold in the evening Surgeon Guerin prescribed not to exceed two tablespoonsful of stimulant, and that was all the liquor he saw or drank at Washington C. H. He did not see any of his men intoxicated, nor did he see liquor in possession of any of them.

When the order to load was given in the afternoon the crowd numbered nearly 2,000. They were threatening the lives of Sheriff Cook and himself. The men were given positive orders when they first went there not to enter saloons.

Colonel Coit said he was not given assistance by the local police, and that his authority to load and fire was found in the discretion given to commanding officers in the regulations.

Major John C. Speaks of the Columbus battalion of the Fourteenth regiment, O. N. G. was the only other witness examined. He testified that just before the shooting he addressed the crowd from a balcony over the south entrance, at which the shooting was done, warning them of the danger. He stated he also called to the business men across the street to close their stores. His warnings were only partly heeded.

A Third Fatal Burning.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 22.—Mrs. Kate Swazel has been fatally burned by her clothes catching ablaze from an open grate. Her clothes were entirely turned from her before assistance arrived. A chair on which she was sitting was burned to ashes, and the bed upon which she threw herself was also burned. This is the third fatal burning in this city in a week.

New Athletic Club to Open.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22.—The new West End Athletic club will be opened this evening with a 10-round go between Kid McGraw of this city and Eugene Bezenah of Covington for a $100 purse and the featherweight championship of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. Both boys are in active training, and will be in good shape for the match.

Burglaries Near Lima.

LIMA, O., Nov. 22.—The dry goods store of Bronson & Holton at Beaver Dam has been broken into, and goods to the amount of $500 stolen. The country residence of S. W. Fraunfeiler, two miles west of the city on the Allentown pike, was also entered by burglars. They secured jewelry and other articles amounting to $500.

Nearly Crazy Over the Murder.

DELPHOS, O., Nov. 22.—Word has been received from Grand Rapids, Mich., that the aged mother of Ed. Burnet, who was murdered at this place by tramps while riding on a freight train on the Fort Wayne road last September, is losing her mind through grieving over the loss.

SHOULD BE REVOKED.
Indians Unable to Practice
Self-Government.

COMMISSION MAKES ITS REPORT.

The Failure of Tribal Government Makes It Impossible to Enforce Treaty Provisions, Which Should Be Abolished. Indians Chastised Out of Land and Money.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The report of the commission of the five civilized tribes to the secretary of the interior recommends the revocation of the power of self-government by the United States. It is a rehearsal of the proceedings of the commission in conference with the Indians, which have already been given to the public from time to time as they occurred.

The commission was not given authority to enter upon negotiations looking to amendment or change of government, so that little has been accomplished. The proposition made to them was to divide land among the Indians, except the town sites, coal and minerals, which were to be sold and the proceeds divided. A homestead for each citizen was to be made inalienable for 25 years or longer. Safeguards for the interest of tribes were included. After the division a territorial government was to be formed by congress and approved by the Indian government. The Indians refused to entertain these propositions and declined to sell the land. The report says that complications are growing up in the title to coal which will lead to endless litigation. The full bloods are less fit for citizenship than they were 20 years ago, and there is little hope that they will improve. The Indians invite and induce white people to come into the territory, where there are 250,000 white people who cannot be called intruders, and the Indians cannot fairly ask the United States to remove them.

The treaty stipulation for equal division of land it is pointed out is flagrantly and widely violated, large tracts being in control of leaders while the real Indian is powerless to secure any part of his common property. The report says:

"The United States guaranteed the holding of these lands as contemplated by the treaties and is in honor bound to wrest them from the unlawful holdings of those in power and restore them to the rightful owners."

"The United States granted to these tribes the power of self-government, not to conflict with the constitution. They have demonstrated their incapacity to so govern themselves, and no higher duty can rest upon the government that granted this authority than to revoke it when it has so lamentably failed."

The failure of tribal government, it is said, makes it impossible to enforce the treaty provisions.

A vivid picture is given of the lawless condition of affairs in the territory which is reflected daily in the news reports. Many private persons entitled to benefit from the payments by the government, it is stated, never see or receive any money, while agents are growing rich. Payment should be made directly to the people by its own officers. Liquor traffic should be prohibited. Provisions should be made for the education of the children.

A Silver Trust Proposed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The announcement that a number of silver smelters and refiners are about to form a combination with the avowed purpose of transferring the control of the silver market from London to New York city has created little surprise here. The pendency of these negotiations has been known to many for some time. Some silver men claim that if the efforts of the combination are successful, the speculative speculation which is now being carried on will be done away with, and that the smelters will always be sure of their position.

Will Make a Fight on Gompers.

DENVER, Nov. 22.—The annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, to be held in that city in December, will develop a hard fight against the re-election of President Samuel Gompers, Secretary McGuire of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, and General Secretary Chris Evans. The opposition is the result of the federation last summer in Chicago refusing to recommend sympathetic strikes in support of the American Railway union railroad strikes.

The Committee After Felson.

ALBANY, Nov. 22.—Upon complaint of the Committee of Seventy, Governor Flower has notified John R. Felson to show cause why he should not be removed from the office of district attorney of New York county for neglect of duty. The complaint was made by Charles Tucker, Fulton, McMahon, Charles Teller, R. G. Welling and Clarence Gaddy of New York.

Takes Charge at Portsmouth, N. H.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 22.—Captain Allen V. Reed, U. S. N., has been installed in command of the Portsmouth navy yard. Commodore Sicard left immediately for New York, where he is to take command of the Brooklyn navy yard.

The Paying Teller a Defaulter.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Chemical National bank has for the first time in a half century been made the victim of a defaulter. The amount involved is $15,113. John R. Tait, paying teller, misappropriated the money.

Two Pennsylvanians Elected.

BUFFALO, Nov. 22.—The National Fraternal congress has elected these officers: President, S. A. Well, Pittsburgh; vice president, W. R. Spooner, New York; secretary and treasurer, W. Sackett, Meadville, Pa.

PITZEL IS LIVING.

He Was Seen Two Weeks Ago by a Chicago Man.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—B. F. Pitzel, the man who was thought to have been murdered for the insurance policy he held with the Fidelity Mutual company, was seen in Chicago two weeks ago. President Fouse has received a telegram from his Chicago agent stating that he had seen Pitzel and had talked with him. Mr. Pitzel, Fouse says, is being hunted by Pinkertons.

Fouse saw Mrs. Pitzel and her daughter in Central station. The girl said her father had told her one time that if ever she saw in the newspapers that he had been found dead for her not to believe it. Mrs. Pitzel said: "They have all deceived me, even my own daughter." Mrs. Pitzel says both Howe and Holmes accompanied her daughter Alice last when she came for the purpose of identifying her father. Howe had claimed he never met Holmes.

The New Methodist University.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Final arrangements are being made for the beginning of the construction of the great American university, to be erected under supervision of the Methodist Episcopal church in the northwest suburbs of Washington. The university will be surrounded by 90 acres of high and beautiful ground, most of it given by the Methodists of Washington. The general plan provides for three buildings. They will probably be connected. The structures will be of blue stone or granite. At some future time there will be established in connection with the university a school of theology for the higher education of Methodists. It is intended that the whole project shall involve $5,000,000.

Seized in Canadian Waters.

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—The Canadian cruiser Petrol has arrived at Windsor with 192 American fishing boats aboard. Captain Dunn being asked about the boats, he made them entirely in Canadian waters, going over the ground carefully with the aid of an American chart. He says he found some American trawls lifting nets in Canadian waters. At sight of the Petrol they dropped everything and steamed away.

Want the Sheriff Revoked.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 22.—Judge Cooper took the bull by the horns in the lynching case and forced Butch McCarver, the obstreperous witness, to testify. Ex-Attorney General Peters created a sensation in court by denouncing the sheriff for working in the interests of the lynchers and trying to cheat justice. A mass meeting of citizens has been called to demand the removal of the sheriff.

Police Power Crushed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Mr. John W. Goff, the prosecuting attorney for the Lexow investigating committee, who is stopping in Washington for a few days, has given a local paper an interesting interview of nearly three columns on the work of the committee. He says New York's police power is completely crushed.

Charged With Grave Robbery.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 22.—Six students and the dean of the medical faculty of Cotner university are under arrest at the police station charged with grave robbery. Their names are D. R. Mechem, A. S. Rose, D. B. Roberts, James Ward and Dean R. J. Alexander.

Actor Emmett Married.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Nov. 22.—When J. K. Emmett arrived in town with his company he at once proceeded to the courthouse, where he asked for a marriage license. A few minutes later the actor and Miss May Haggins Stevens, a member of the company, drove up to the residence of Canon Rogers of the Episcopal cathedral and were married.

General Sanders Discharged.

PUEBLO, Col., Nov. 22.—General J. S. Sanders, organizer and commander of the Commonwealth army which went east last summer from Cripple Creek, and who was arrested here Nov. 10 on a charge of stealing a Denver and Rio Grande locomotive, has been discharged, the railroad company withdrawing the complaint.

Pluto-Phonographs Cases Reported.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Pronounced cases of pluto-phonographs were found in two cargoes of American cattle which arrived at Newmarket and at Depford respectively last week, according to information received here from English authorities.

General Fremont's Body Interred.

ROCKLAND, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The New York Society of California Pioneers assembled at the cemetery today when the body of the late General John Fremont was taken from the vault and interred in the cemetery. A monument is to be erected over the grave.

Materan Leon, a cooper, was shot and killed at Franklin, La., by W. R. Roberts, editor of The Patterson Optic.

Mrs. Annie Wetherhill, a wealthy resident of Palmyra, N. J., was found dead by her husband, with a bullet hole in the region of the heart, having suicided.

The grand jury at Lander, Wyo., created quite a sensation by indicting Captain Patrick Henry Ray of the Eighth Infantry, acting Indian agent at Shoshone agency, for branding cattle belonging to a stockman named Boyd.

LAWLER AT BALTIMORE.

While in Washington He Left a Statement at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Commander-in-Chief Lawler and Adjutant General Jones of the G. A. R. went to Baltimore this morning to inspect the G. A. R. posts in the city.

While in Washington they called at the White House and were received by Private Secretary Thurber. General Lawler presented to Mr. Thurber the resolutions of the last encampment of the G. A. R., accompanied by a statement alleging cases of old soldiers who have been discharged from government positions during the present administration, of those whose salaries have been reduced, and those who, it is claimed, have been discriminated against in other ways.

General Lawler declined to make the statement public, but said that it was a conservative presentation of the case based upon facts and couched in moderate and respectful terms. The organization had no political ends to serve and no desire to do injustice to the administration, he said, but felt that the facts bearing upon the treatment of old soldiers in the government service should be made known to President Cleveland, so that any action he might see fit to take should be taken with full knowledge of the matter. It is understood the reinstatement of some veterans who have been discharged is asked for.

INSPECTOR HARR BLAMED.

He said the Pit Boss Responsible For West Virginia's Mine Horror.

WHEELING, Nov. 22.—The coroner's jury on the case of the seven miners killed in the Branch miners on the Panhandle road has finished its labors.

Expert miners made an examination into the workings where the explosion took place and testified that it was due to an overcharge of powder which ignited the coal dust and that the pit boss accused said by made them entirely in Canadian waters, going over the ground carefully with the aid of an American chart. He says he found some American trawls lifting nets in Canadian waters. At sight of the Petrol they dropped everything and steamed away.

A Judge Abusing His Power.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., Nov. 22.—The grand jury has reported indictments against Probate Judge Stewart and E. E. Brown and J. J. Burke, editors of The Times Journal. The indictment against Stewart was for assisting prisoners to escape from jail, he having released Burke and Brown, who were jailed by Judge Scott for contempt of court. The indictment against Burke and Brown was for escaping from jail. W. R. Harper, probate judge-elect, and J. L. Brown, both prominent attorneys, were also indicted for contempt for publicly commenting on a case in court. All parties were arrested and there is much excitement. The whole matter grows out of District Judge Scott attempting to keep everybody from commenting in any way on his actions in court.

Rockefeller and Others Indicted.

WACO, Tex., Nov. 22.—The grand jury of McLennan county, at the instance of the attorney general (Gov. Culbertson), has indicted John D. Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, William Rockefeller, John D. Archibald, Benjamin Brewster, Henry H. Rogers, Wesley H. Tilford, Henry Clay, Arthur M. Finley, C. M. Adams, J. P. Grout and others for entering into a conspiracy to control the coal oil market. Governor Hogg has indicated his purpose to issue requisition on the governor of New York for the parties.

Rissell's Report About Complete.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The postmaster general has about completed his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, and it will be formally presented to the president in a few days. It is understood that it will contain recommendations on certain lines of the postal service, which, if acted upon, will have an important and permanent bearing upon the efficiency and revenue of the service. He makes special and interesting recommendations as to second class matter, the postal telegraph and the civil service.

General Miles Takes Charge.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—General Nelson A. Miles has taken command of the military department of the east. As the general departed from the tugboat at Governor's island the usual salute was fired. He was received by all the officers at present stationed on the island and escorted to General Howard's headquarters, where he was introduced to a heads of the different departments. A reception was tendered the general later.

Parkhurst to Be a Guest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The sub-committees of the committee of seventy will give a dinner this evening. Among those invited are: Mayor-elect Strong, Dr. Parkhurst, Joseph Loefer, Lewis L. Delafield, J. Pierpont Morgan, General Horace Porter, William B. Hornblower, Jacob H. Schiff, Gustav H. Schwab, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Frederick Taylor.

Customs' Receipts and Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The receipts from customs so far during the present month are $7,480,693; internal revenue, $5,169,040; miscellaneous sources, $912,329, making a total of $13,562,072. The expenditures amount to $22,160,000, making the deficit so far this month $8,597,928, and for the period since July 1, 1894, $22,951,790.

Standard Time in Argentina.

LOCAL BREVITIES

The donation which the Women's Relief corps will send away tomorrow afternoon is for the state soldiers' home.

Mayor Gilbert went to Lancaster this morning with young Ebberts where the boy will be placed in the reformatory.

Some trouble has been experienced with the track at the freight depot and the section gang went to work raising it this morning.

Health Officer King says that the health of the city is good beyond all expectation. At present there is not a case of contagion in the town.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Louthan will entertain friends at their home on Walnut street tonight. A large number of invitations have been issued.

The Senior Mechanics have been invited by the Juniors to join them in attending services at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning, and have accepted the invitation.

S. A. Lytle, of Cleveland, grand trustee of the Royal Arcanum, was in the city on business yesterday. He found the order here in good condition, and was well pleased with affairs.

Mr. Fuller, of St. Louis, is learning to handle a motor on the electric line under the instruction of older hands at the business. He will take charge of a car soon. Cyrus Badgley is also working on the line again.

Coal men are fearful of a freezeup on the river, and say it would mean a loss of thousands of dollars to them at the present time, as they are sending out large amounts of coal. The regular packets are running this week.

Business men say there were never so many drummers in the city before yesterday, and all were hustling. They were encouraged by the recent election, and said nearly every town they visited was experiencing prosperity, the same as in East Liverpool.

The Elks last night held a social session, and it was without doubt the most enjoyable one of the season. After those present had amused themselves until a late hour, they were conducted to seats around long tables in Rochabite hall, where a feast fit for kings was provided.

The funeral of Mrs. Charles McGovern took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the corner of Fourth street and Woodbine avenue, and a large crowd of friends listened to the touching address of Reverend C. W. Huffer. The remains were laid to rest in Spring Grove cemetery.

John Williams, Pughtown, left his horse standing at the passenger station last night, and the animal ran away. It dashed down Second street, and succeeded in breaking a few spokes in a wheel before it was captured. The shifting engine is responsible for the animal's flight.

I. N. Crable returned home this morning from his hunting trip to Tennessee and was like the balance of the party laden down with game. Yesterday Ike shipped home a goose weighing 18 pounds, which he had the honor of shooting, and it was the largest bird captured during the trip.

John Purinton, the blacksmith, was working with a drill press yesterday evening when his left hand was caught in the machinery and was frightfully mangled. Two fingers were caught and so lacerated that it is probable one will be amputated at the second joint. The gentleman's many friends sympathize with him in his trouble.

What was evidently a fight occurred on a westbound street car Tuesday night. Parties on another car state that when the cars passed on the Lythe switch one man pushed another off the car, and he in turn pushed his opponent from the steps. A third man alighted and they scuffled about in the darkness, while the car went on.

A drunken man was noticed in the Diamond yesterday evening, and when some small boys began teasing him he caught a youngster by the neck and would no doubt have choked him had not a stone struck him at that very moment. He released his hold on the boy and made tracks to get away from the crowd whom he evidently believed intended murdering him.

While a street car was coming up Washington street hill Tuesday night three men who were evidently drunk began scuffling and broke the glass in the rear door. They were given their fares and put off the car at Fourth street, and then they wanted to whip Superintendent Andrews, who was on the car. He declined to be licked and the car moved on, leaving them cursing like madmen.

A well known resident objects because his paper is being borrowed by his neighbors. Last night he was anxious to read the account of the McGregor trial in the News Review, but five different persons came and borrowed it before he had an opportunity to see a line. The man who can not pay ten cents a week for the best paper in Eastern Ohio should not be allowed to read what it contains.

pearances he said were frequent on certain parts of the body when there is pressure. This body presented a livid appearance and was in a state of preservation. The head had been cut off.

"Do you mean to say that the neck was cut off and thrown away?"

Park—I mean to say that the neck was gone, as it was not on the head. Even the jawbone was removed from the head. I did not see it afterward, and made inquiry about it. I don't know whether other doctors saw the neck or not. When I looked at the body I knew that Doctors Tarr, McFarland and McKenzie were present. Maybe others. Some doctors were looking at the body when I went in. I did not see marks on the body on the second day as they were not then visible. I do not know whether other doctors saw the marks, but I drew the attention of one of them.

Taylor—But he did not see much, did he?

Doctor—That you will have to find from him.

Doctor Park said that rough handling of a body three hours after death would cause the marks. As long as heat was in the body they could be produced in that manner. The temperature of a body began to fall as soon as death occurred going 34 degrees an hour for three or four hours, then one half a degree each hour the remainder of the time. There is rule that a body cools on a cold morning as rapidly as on a warm day but he had his doubts about it being true, believing that it would cool on a cold day much sooner than if the weather was warm. The evidence of what blood witness saw was dark livid, and the body had the equivalent of flesh on it, something unusual after a year's interment. He had the impression that death was produced by strangulation, and the impression was not drawn from marks on the neck. The face was livid and the doctor described livid as being a white, ashen hue, with a purple tint. The same definition from a dictionary was given, and the doctor proceeded that the color in the face of the body was white blackness, the lividity that comes after death. If the tongue was not protruding immediately after death it would not protrude at all.

Taylor—Do you mean to say the tongue could not have gotten that way after being in the grave?

Doctor—No sir. It could not. It would simply be due to violence.

Taylor then read from some medical work to prove that the tongue would protrude after death, but failed to convince the doctor unless death came from violence.

Taylor—in strangulation by means of hand is violence necessary?

Doctor—I would say no. I admit that more force is used than is necessary.

The doctor said that after death by strangulation the face must be livid, eyes and tongue protruding and hands clenched. Carey stated that the skull was in the building, and offered it to the defense to use. The defense was obliged but declined.

Doctor Marquis is on the stand as the News Review goes to press.

MORRISON'S TESTIMONY.

A Deposition Said to be Given as Evidence.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.
New Lisbon, Nov. 22.—It is stated here that the prosecution in the McGregor trial have the testimony of Harvey Morrison, the man who was killed in Wells-ville by the accidental discharge of a gun, and it will be produced. The story goes that his deposition was taken before he died. As he was present during all the events narrated by Alma Walters, it will make interesting testimony if the story is true.

THE Y. I. M. C. A. BANQUET.

The Members of the Auxiliary Enjoy a Rich Feast.

Secretary Morris, of the Young Men's Christian association, announced last night at the Opera House that he desired all members of the ladies' auxiliary, with their escorts, to remain at the close of the entertainment, as he had something of vital importance to announce to them. This item of vital importance came in the shape of an invitation to a banquet at the rink, given by the members of the Young Men's Christian association as an evidence of their appreciation of the services rendered the association by the ladies' auxiliary. The tables were formed in the shape of a triangle, with Reverend J. C. Taggart as master of ceremonies (acting for President Alvin H. Bulger) at one angle; George C. Murphy, treasurer of the Young Men's Christian association, at another, and Secretary Morris at the third. The Franz Wilczek Concert company were invited guests. The feast was a royal one, and ample justice was done it by 75 guests. Caterer Wells did himself proud. Messrs. Taggart, Whitehead, Wilczek, Matheny, Murphy, McCann, Warner and Myler made happy little speeches, and Messdames Matheny and Palmer, treasurer and president respectively of the auxiliary, were also called upon. Mrs. Matheny announced that the entertainment at the rink had brought in over $700, and that the auxiliary had cleared over $500.

Mrs. Harry Palmer, as president of the Ladies Auxiliary, returns sincere thanks of the organization to the members of the Young Men's Christian association for the royal repast spread last night, and for the kindly feelings which prompted those having charge of affairs.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

An Entertainment that Was a Source of Delight.

Do you love music, vocal and instrumental? If so, and you were not present at the opera house last night, at the entertainment given under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association, then you missed a genuine treat. From opening to close of program the interest and pleasure of the fine audience was unabated, and the members of the concert company were the recipients of hearty applause. Ernest de Riva made a decided hit at the piano, while Mangioni de Pasquelli received hearty encores for his rendering of songs. Mr. and Mrs. Franz Wilczek are pastmasters of melody on the violin. Franz is an artist, and his manipulation of the bow is wonderful. Mme. Wichmann sang with acceptance to her attentive hearers. The entertainment was a marked success, and the members of the Young Men's Christian association can congratulate themselves on their first two entertainments. Let the public have more of the same high order, gentlemen, and you need not complain of poor patronage.

Sued for a Board Bill.

Julia Smith entered suit in Squire Travis' court this morning against the Bridgewater Gas company for $13.50, claimed due for a board bill. The case will be heard on Wednesday next at 1 o'clock. Attorney W. F. Lones for plaintiff.

Taken to Lisbon.

Chongey Carragher, charged with shooting Mrs. Taylor with intent to kill, was taken to New Lisbon by Chief Gill this morning. Clerk Hanley accompanied the chief.

HOWARD.

The Wonder Worker—Rheumatic and Paralytic Cured Free of Charge—starting Lectures in Bradshaw's Hall. Commencing Monday, Nov. 26—Admission Free.

Dr. Lawrence Howard, of the Howard Medical Institute, Cleveland, Ohio, who is known as "Howard the Wonder Worker," and who has created so much excitement in all parts of the state by his wonderful cures of the crippled and sick, will, in order to show the people of Liverpool what power over suffering he has, cure a few rheumatic and paralytic cripples free of charge, no matter how bad they may be, provided they will call at the Hotel Grand. This offer will be good for four days, commencing Friday, Nov. 23. The doctor's office hours will be from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., and all consultation and advice will be free to all. Commencing Monday, Nov. 26, Doctor Howard will give a course of free lectures, a public clinic, in Bradshaw's hall. He will cure, in full view of the audience, the lame, halt, sick and crippled, free. The admission will be free to all. Best seats reserved for ladies and escorts. The doctor will see that the best of order is maintained. All should hear this wonderful man.

DOCTOR HUSTON'S HAPPINESS.

Wedded Yesterday to a Lady in Bridgeport.

Reverend J. M. Huston, D. D., of this place, and Miss Lida B. Holloway, of Bridgeport, were married at the home of the bride yesterday, the ceremony being performed by Reverend C. B. Henathorn and Presiding Elder S. H. Stewart. A few close friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present and witnessed the happy event. The newly-wedded pair left at once for a trip in eastern cities where they expect to travel for several weeks. Upon their return to this place they will undoubtedly begin housekeeping at the parsonage.

All of East Liverpool wishes Doctor Huston all the happiness that it is possible for him to have. He is a Christian gentleman whose qualifications have not been passed since he became a resident of the city.

Uncle Tom is Here.

Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin troupe arrived in the city today, and will appear at the Grand Opera House tonight in all their grandeur. East Liverpool has been faked by many Uncle Toms, but Stowe's has the reputation of being the genuine, and will undoubtedly please all who go to see the performance this evening.

Tomorrow night "Hoss and Hoss" will hold the boards at the Grand and Jacques Kroger, as the leading man, is unequaled in this line. For genuine fun there are few shows traveling that can compete with this one.

The "Life Guard" is Monday night's attraction and its appearance in East Liverpool will no doubt be greeted by a large audience.

Among the Ill.

T. J. Barnes was confined to his home yesterday by illness.

The infant child of Samuel Thomas, of Grant street, is seriously ill.

J. N. Smith, of West Market street, is confined to his home with a severe attack of grip.

Mrs. B. L. Reddick, of Jackson square, has been ill with congestion of the lungs, but is convalescent.

Mrs. Mary Rigby, of Lincoln avenue, is seriously ill. She is an aged lady, and her illness is a general breaking down as a result of advanced years. Her recovery is hardly expected.

Chose Fourth Street.

Councilmen Kent, Owens and Horwell, with Solicitor Clark, Engineer George and representatives of the Specialty Glass company, yesterday afternoon went over the proposed routes for building a road to the glass house. Sixth and Fourth streets were looked at, and of the two the committee thought Fourth street was the better. It is expected that the committee will recommend this route to council at the next meeting, and that it will be endorsed by that body. Then the purchasing of property will be all preliminary arrangements necessary.

Saw the Knives.

A well known resident of this city stated that he saw the butcher knives in McGregor's possession, which Alma Walters testified to in court, and they were several times as large as the ordinary knife. McGregor playfully tapped a man on the leg at the time and the knife was so sharp that it brought blood and frightened her so badly that she did not recover from the shock for several days.

A Good Service.

Manager Frank Swaney is doing all in his power to regulate the telephone offices in this city and in New Lisbon so as to permit of a good service for all the newspapers in the southern part of the county. He is succeeding.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—F. W. Hays, of Wheeling, was a city visitor today.

—Miss Alice Crawford, of Mansfield, is visiting friends here.

—A. R. Mackall was a passenger on the morning train for Pittsburg.

—L. H. Arter, of New Lisbon, was in the city on business yesterday.

—Mrs. S. Howard has gone home to Wheeling after visiting in this place.

—Charley Kelley will leave this week for a ten days' trip in eastern cities.

—Hamilton Dawson, of Beaver county, was here today calling on friends.

—John O. Mason, of near Rochester, was in the city last evening calling on friends.

—Architect Owsley was in town last night viewing the progress of the school building.

—I. N. Walters has returned to his home in Steubenville after a visit with friends in this city.

—J. T. McBrier, of New Cumberland, called on friends in this city yesterday. He is employed in the Chelsea pottery.

—Mrs. A. M. Norris, of Highlandtown, who has been visiting her son, Doctor W. T. Norris, returned home yesterday afternoon.

—Mrs. E. M. Crosser and children left for Millport this morning where they will stay with friends while Ed is absent in the east.

—Rev. Winfield Hill, the gentleman who was at one time pastor of the Hookstown church, is in the city, the guest of his brother, Colonel H. R. Hill.

—Miss Anna Moyers, of Bridgeport, who has been visiting friends in this city for several days, returned home this morning. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Clara, who preceded her for a brief visit here.

The River is Falling.

The river is falling, and boats with full tows can not go down. Empty are being pushed to Pittsburg as fast as possible to catch the next rise which should not be delayed long. The Bedford went down last night and took on 10 casks of ware here, but no passengers. She will be back tonight, and will make the trip tomorrow night to Sistersville.

Sent to the Home.

Trustee J. W. Albright this morning sent to the Fairmount Children's home the little son and daughter of Mrs. George Hackathorne. The mother of the children resided in the rooms above the trustee's office, but has been separated from her husband for some time.

A Drunken Fight.

At 10 o'clock last night two men under the influence disgusted a small audience near the power house with a drunken fight of the most approved fashion. After an exhibition in which both were struck they decided to make it all up and go home.

Chased His Wife.

John Brighthouse, better known as Jack Kaiser, the peg legged man, was chasing his wife around the city hall last night armed with a blackjack, while she had a poker. Officers Supplee and Wyman arrested him and he still in jail.

A Good Concert.

The appearance of the Joseph Carl Briel Concert company at the Grand Tuesday night was greeted by a large audience and was a decided success. The Emerald Beneficial association realized a neat profit from the proceeds.

Thanks, Toney.

Captain Palmer returns thanks to Mr. Bertelle for the present of a handsome blue teal duck, one of the numerous victims of the skill of Ike Crable on his late Tennessee trip.

A. J. Moon.

Wants his patrons and the public to know that he is placing a phone in his place of business, 200 Sixth street, and can be communicated with on business readily.

FOR ONE DAY ONLY.

Saturday Nov. 24, Mr. Schenck, of New York, will be at our store with all the latest and best things in fur capes, scarfs and muffs. Anyone desiring to make Christmas gifts in this line of goods should call and make their selections at

The Boston store.

A. S. Young.

Notice, Senior Mechanics.

All members of Gen. George H. Thomas council, No. 8, Order United American Mechanics, are requested to meet in their hall at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, Nov. 25, to attend divine services in the First Presbyterian church.

They Made Money.

The ladies of the auxiliary took in $712.00 at their fair last week and spent $165.46, clearing just $547.44 for the grand work.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Pittenger, Oak street, McKinnon addition, a son.

We Are Receiving Our CHRISTMAS ROCKERS.

We are always proud of our holiday line, but this year we will go far ahead of all previous efforts.

People are looking and selecting already.
